Summary of reasons for decision:

The publication is an image of a woman involving an animal in a sexual act. It is deemed to be objectionable because it promotes and supports bestiality under s3(2)(e) of the Films, Videos, and Publications Classification Act 1993. The only purpose of the image is intended to titillate or arouse adults with a sexual interest in animals and in women having sex with animals. The classification interferes with the right to freedom of expression set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However, this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's clear intention to prevent the availability of publications that promote and support the crime of bestiality.
